

Mesolithic Home

Hello. my e-mail address is on the front page.

www.squeakydesign.info

The Mesolithic Home researched and built by Mark James

Brigit Strawbridge visiting the Mesolithic House (under construction) with Mark James (course tutor).

I have an extensive background of (what I call) Stick Building, which is a good grounding for all other construction.

below Mark Looking up into the roofspace.... roof space above.

The Main Entrance.

Showing size of roof space.

A rainbow

The Experts built one at Howick.

and the BBC "Coast" programme filmed the construction.

but the problem with Experimental Archology is.....

without someone of my background.

Many thanks to Nicky for the Photos at Howick.

There was little difference to this Seascape in Mesolithic times.

Howick information board.