

Designing

Design is a very diverse subject.....

I have studied the subject all my life.....

I see the Client and their family as the primary point

then the Home including the Garden,

then the wider area.

but this is not all,

what pollutants exist.

TV Design and Designers have to some extent misinformed the Public,

I ask that you read my published article Carbon Cycle Explained see buttons

I was having some fun with some corrugated card, a couple of twigs and a drop of spray paint. For Easter.

I'll be adding more soon.....
